Financial Aid Rights and Responsibilities

Students who receive financial assistance are agreeing that they have read, understood and will comply with the obligations and conditions listed below and all applicable institutional and federal regulations.

- You understand that you must be a degree-seeking student at the GTU. Prospective student applications will be reviewed after the Financial Aid Office has been notified of your admission to an eligible degree program. Applications received after a priority deadline may be delayed by a minimum of three to six weeks.
- You must provide accurate information. Intentionally misreporting information used to determine financial aid eligibility is a violation of federal law and could be a criminal offense, which may be subject to penalties that include fines, imprisonment, or both under the US Criminal Code and 20 U.S.C. 1097.
- An offer will be made in accordance with all current laws, regulations and appropriations of the federal government and the institution in effect at the time of the calculation and the availability of funds. The Financial Aid Office reserves the right to modify, reduce or withdraw an offer in the event of changes in your financial status and/or eligibility for aid, if institutional policies or federal laws are amended. Additionally, financial aid may be cancelled if the aid offered was based on any unintended error.
- You agree to use the GTU Net Partner Student Portal to accept and/or decline your aid offer electronically. You may contact the Financial Aid Office regarding alternative methods of communication and you can rescind your permission at any time. All financial aid matters will be communicated by email to your preferred email if you are an applicant or your school email account if you are a returning student.
- You understand that an offer of financial aid and determination of your award is for the 2022-2023 nine-month academic year or four-and a half month academic term and that offers of financial aid are contingent on the availability of funds. If you enroll for fewer units than estimated or drop classes which bring you below full-time enrollment, your award will be adjusted accordingly or withdrawn completely. Funding is not guaranteed for increased enrollment. Furthermore, you understand you must re-apply and reestablish eligibility for financial aid each award year.
- You understand that you may explore other opportunities for assistance. We encourage you to make use of the GTU Guide to External Scholarships and Resources to research other funding sources that may support your education and help to reduce the need to borrow loans.
- You understand that you must report any additional financial assistance missing on your offer notice, such as scholarships, vocational rehabilitation funds, AmeriCorps, fellowships and employer tuition assistance. Additional assistance received may result in an adjustment, cancellation or required repayment of an award if additional aid exceeds your demonstrated financial need or cost of attendance.
- You will inform the Financial Aid Office of any changes in your financial circumstances, favorable as well as unfavorable, that occur within the award period. You may request a recalculation of your financial need if there is a substantial change in your financial circumstances. However, this may not result in an increase in financial aid.
- If required, you must provide verification documents requested within two weeks of the time of the request or your offer will be subject to delay. An award will be adjusted or canceled if aid eligibility changes as a result of this process.
- You cannot receive financial aid from two schools at the same time for the same semester.
- If a Federal Work Study (FWS) offer is included in your aid package, before beginning employment, a FWS Authorization form and a current job description must be filed with the Financial Aid Office and employment documents must be completed with Human Resources. Work-study employment is contingent upon availability of funds and is not guaranteed.
- Recipients of federal student loans must complete the online entrance counseling and the annual student loan acknowledgement requirements before receiving any funds. These requirements may be completed at <https://studentaid.gov/>.
- You understand that once financial aid funds are available for payment, financial aid will be credited to your student account to pay for your mandatory tuition/fees and any other outstanding obligations related to your educational expenses by the established deadline. If your financial aid disbursement does not cover the balance due, you are responsible for the payment.
- You acknowledge that a condition to receive financial aid requires that you maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) standards according to policies established by the institution that are compliant with federal regulations.
- If you are awarded a merit-based scholarship and fall below the scholarship criteria, you may be responsible for repayment of the scholarship.
- According to federal regulations, if you withdraw or stop attending all classes (i.e., take a leave of absence) prior to completing 60% of any semester for which you have received a federal Direct Loan, awards may be adjusted in accordance with the refund policy and you may be required to repay all or a portion of any federal funds disbursed based on the Return to Title IV (R2T4) calculation as required by federal law. Recalculations of your financial aid may cause a balance due and you are responsible for reviewing your student billing account statement to determine if you owe a repayment of a federal Direct Loan or other type of financial aid. Any credit refund that you have received may be returned to the US Department of Education and your federal loan servicer(s) will be notified of your less than half-time enrollment status. Federal regulations require active participation in courses in order to be eligible for federal funds.
- Recipients of federal student loans must complete mandatory exit counseling prior to separation either by graduation, less than half-time enrollment, leave of absence, withdrawal or termination.
